

Cast Adrift

in these dark times does the muse
elude your senses?
do you yearn for an open highway or the quick fix of your video? can you still nurture stillness of mind or calmly let go? and, in flowing can you halt the constant chatter the canned laughter of the construction cranes those insistent cultural voices their constraints calling in the night like a dream from your childhood reawakening without the protection and security of a guiding light
